Chiefly Speaking

Tony Stianche

Brothers,

Welcome to 2017! We are in for a great year! New chairmen and officers have been appointed to their positions and we are hitting the ground running. In addition, Conclave is shaping up – and it looks like it's going to be amazing! Our theme, of course, is MI-6B, playing off of the ever-famous James Bond franchise. I'm looking forward to working with the Conclave committee to begin finalizing plans for the event.

If you are someone who is more of a "shy guy" and feels that there isn't a place for you in the Lodge leadership, you're wrong. I was once that shy guy. I always wanted to do something in the Lodge, but was too afraid to speak up. Now's your chance to speak up. We need active youth members to join us in planning Conclave and running our Lodge. For more information, feel free to contact myself (See page 11).

Regards,
Tony Stianchie
Lodge Chief

As 2016 comes to an end, so does my time as Lodge Adviser. It was great working with Austin, Tony, all of Executive Board members and the Lodge Executive Committee. I hope they learned as much from me as I have learned from them. I would also like to thank all of the adults, past and present, who have stepped up to take an active role in the Lodge. Without your help, the lodge cannot provide opportunities for the young men in the Lodge to learn and become leaders in our communities.

I have enjoyed the many events over the last two years, even with the long days and short nights. The pay back for the work and dedication is seeing the young men of the Lodge realize what they are capable of doing and watching them grow to become the next generation of leaders.

Kyle and I have been working with the Executive Board over the last two years to help them improve the Lodge, challenging them to look for new opportunities and encouraging them down new roads. Kyle is ready to continue helping the leaders of the Lodge continue down the path to success. We will see continued success and improvement in the Lodge and I am looking forward to helping Kyle as his Associate Adviser.

All of the hard work, long days and countless meetings have resulted in the Lodge improving. For the first time since the inception of the Journey to Excellence, Kittatinny 5 has earned the Bronze level award. This is a result of hard work by the Lodge Chief, executive board and his Lodge Executive Committee.

Again, thanks to all of those who helped out. I had a great time working with you and hope we will continue helping the scout s in their journey in life.

Yours in Service,
Rudy Benkert
Associate Lodge Adviser

Adviser's Minute

Kyle Dierolf

Fellow Arrowmen,

Thunderstorms. The first experience for me in the lodge was a stormy and windy night spent trying to stay dry as my Ordeal experience began. While the start of my journey that weekend could have been a little better it ended quite memorably. As we entered the circle the next night for our Ordeal ceremony the excitement built with each step we took. Ending the ceremony circled up with our new brothers around the fire was quite the contrast from twenty four hours prior. Our spirit did not dwindle that weekend despite a less than ideal start. Cheerfulness proved to be an important trait before we were even taught the importance of such an attitude. My Ordeal experience comes to mind when reflecting about my time in the lodge. I learned a lot that weekend despite not knowing it then. Maintaining a positive attitude was the most obvious but I also learned that working together with the people around you can carry through those irksome tasks. I have tried to keep this experience with me during my time with the lodge since it seems an awful lot like from Day 1 I learned what it means to be in a Brotherhood of Cheerful Service.

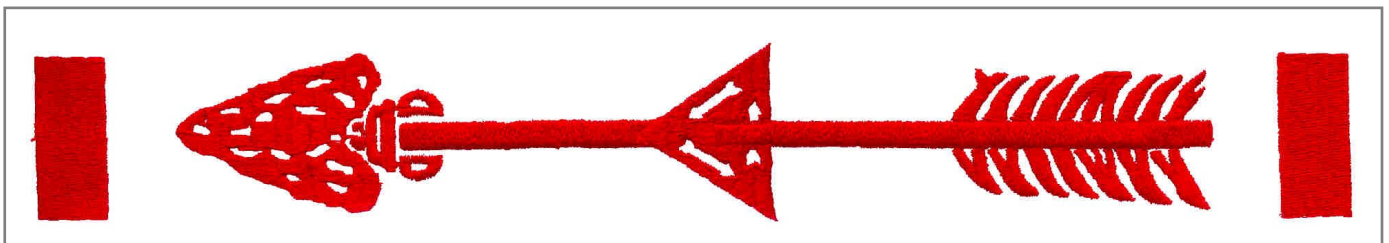

Our lodge is a team. Each Arrowmen is a member of this team. Together this team is successful. How can I help? That is a question I often hear. The answer to that question is quite simply, in any way you can! Whether it is discussing the opportunities that await with new candidates, helping with unit elections, or joining the ceremonies team; the bottom line is that the quality of this lodge truly is based on the efforts of each and every member. Our lodge is fortunate to share the team mindset amongst its members. The efforts we make as Arrowmen ultimately allow us to create, facilitate, and grow a program that helps Scouts learn how to be the best selfless leaders they can be while allowing them to have fun doing it.

I look forward to serving you all as the Lodge Adviser. It is humbling to be chosen to advise our Lodge Executive Committee and Officers to help them build the best program possible. I know it will be a blast! Join us on the adventures ahead!

Yours in Cheerful Service,

Kyle Dierolf

HEALTH AND SAFETY REMINDER

The Health and Safety committee would like to remind all lodge members that they will need to bring a BSA Medical (Parts A&B) with them to the first service weekend they attend this year. For those under 18 years of age, this form requires your parent/guardian signature. The lodge destroys all medicals at the end of each calendar year.

Membership Updates

Dues and membership cards

In December, all Arrowmen were mailed a post-card reminding them to pay their dues for 2017. Dues can be paid to the Hawk Mountain Council office, or be paid online at kittatinny5.org/dues. If you don't know your lodge ID, you can find it on the top line of the mailing label on the postcard sent to you. If you no longer have your reminder card, you can send an email to membership@kittatinny5.org and they will tell you your lodge ID.

For those who have already paid their dues ... because of printing errors on the OA membership cardstock from the National Supply office, the dues cards have been delayed and not yet available for us to purchase. As soon as the Membership Committee receives the new cards, they will be sending them out to paid members.

Communications

So long eNews...

Last year, the Communication Committee in coordination with the Membership Committee made a decision to retire the eNews subscription service and replace it with OA LodgeMaster (OALM). The move to OALM allows the lodge to A) continue to provide important updates over email, while B) ensuring that 100% of our active members are receiving those notices. It also has the added benefit of helping to validate that the lodge has an up-to-date email address for all members.

Emails from OALM will come from no-reply-528@lodgemaster.oa-bsa.org. Adding this email to your address book and/or trusted senders list will help to ensure lodge notification messages do not inadvertently end up in your spam folder.

We will continue to cross-post messages to the website, Facebook, and Twitter channels for real-time news, and we will be sending monthly email updates through OA LodgeMaster. If you have any questions or concerns, please send us a note at communications@kittatinny5.org or send us a message on social media.

A Call to Service

Calling all Arrowmen! The ceremonies committee is looking to see if anyone is interested in learning Native American dancing or Native American drumming. We would be holding practices periodically over the summer. If interested contact us at Ceremonies@kittatinny5.org. More information will be put out in the future to those that respond.

To all current ceremonialists look out for dates for training days for your usual parts.

Thanks

Lodge Participation Award

With just a little work, you can get started earning the 4-part (black wolf dangler patch and 3 pin segments) Kittatinny Lodge Participation Award. Most of it you can do just by being an active member in your unit and attending OA Weekends. Start by earning the patch and then in subsequent years you earn each of the pins. It takes 4 years to earn the complete award set.

The requirements for each of the four segments are the same: Complete FOUR of the following:

- 1) Attend 2 service weekends and one quarterly meeting;
- 2) Attend a Lodge Executive Meeting, Conclave, or other Lodge event;
- 3) Attend Summer Camp or a High Adventure camp;
- 4) Attend 75% of your Troop's meetings;
- 5) Attend 2 troop campouts (other than extended camp);
- 6) Teach a Scout a new skill.

Once you have completed these, talk to the Lodge Chief, or an Exec Committee Member about what you have done and what you are planning to do for your Troop and the O.A. in the future.

It's not too late to turn in paperwork for 2016 or get started for 2017. Forms are available at: http://kittatinny5.org/docs/forms/frm_k5part.pdf

Congratulations to: Chuck Barlett, Sam Barlett, Bill Busher, Chris Drasher, Steve Drasher, Matt Drasher, Sam Parramore, Elaine Price, Griffin Price, Derek Sadler, and William Mallis on earning the award and/or a new segment piece.

The Legend of the Crow—an old Lenape Legend

Submitted by: Brandon Huey—Ceremonies Chairman

“The Rainbow Crow was beautiful to hear and to see, back in the days when it never got cold, back in the Ancient Days, before Snow Spirit appeared in the World.

When the Snow Spirit did appear, all the people and animals were freezing and a messenger was selected to go up to kijilamuh ka’ong, The Creator Who Creates By Thinking What Will Be. The messenger was to ask The Creator to think of the World as being warm again so that they would not all freeze to death.

Rainbow Crow was chosen to go and he flew upward for three days. He got the Creator’s attention by singing beautifully, but even though he begged the Creator to make it warm again, the Creator said He could not, because He had thought of Cold and He could not unthink it. But He did think of Fire, a thing that could warm the creatures even when it was cold. And so He poked a stick into the Sun until it was burning, and the gave it to Rainbow Crow to carry back to earth for the creatures. The Creator told Rainbow Crow to hurry before it burned all up.

Rainbow Crow dove down and flew as fast as he could go. The burning stick charred all of his beautiful feathers until they were black and since he was carrying the stick in his beak, he breathed the smoke and heat until his voice was hoarse.

And so the Rainbow Crow was black and had an unpleasant cawing voice forever after, but all the creatures honored him, for he had brought Tindeh, fire, for everyone to use.

The Crow is to this day, still honored by hunters and animals, who never kill it for food...and, if you look closely at the Crow’s black feathers you can still see many colors gleaming in the black.”

VOICES OF THE PAST

Looking Ahead to the Lodge Centennial

By James Harner—Minsi Lodge Chief 1970-1971

Believe it or not, Kittatinny Lodge 5 will turn 100 in just four short years from now.

As one of the nation's oldest Order of the Arrow lodges, Kittatinny has a long and distinguished history of service. Founded on July 1, 1921, Lodge #5 was initially called Indiandale Lodge, named after the council camp at the time. Several months later the name was changed to Minsi and the timber wolf was adopted as the Lodge's totem.

Fifty years later---in August of 1971---Minsi Lodge and neighboring Memeu Lodge merged to create Kittatinny Lodge 5. The merger was necessitated by the creation of the Hawk Mountain Council that same year, bringing together the Daniel Boone Council, based in Berks County, and Schuylkill County's Appalachian Trail Council.

The creation of Kittatinny Lodge was celebrated at a special Conclave attended by 350 members at the Daniel Boone Council's Camp Shikellamy, near Bethel. The August 1971 event also commemorated Minsi Lodge's 50th anniversary and the dedication of a new Lodge building and ceremonial ring at Shikellamy.

Some of us are old enough to remember this historic event. As Minsi's last Lodge Chief, I had the privilege of serving as master of ceremonies that day. I read aloud a handwritten letter to the Conclave written by Order of the Arrow Founder E. Umer Goodman, who was present when Lodge #5 was established a half century before, working side by side with Arthur Schuck, the local Council Executive in Berks County who would later become the Boy Scouts of America's Chief Scout Executive.

Former Minsi Chief Jerry Andrews (1965) just sent me another letter from Dr. Goodman, which includes the OA founder's recollections of Minsi Lodge's origins. By the way, Dr. Goodman also signed Jerry's Brotherhood sash. Jerry wouldn't, however, have the opportunity to wear it because he earned Vigil Honor soon after receiving Dr. Goodman's letter and the signed sash.

I still have the program from the 50th Conclave, which lists the names of speakers from both Minsi and Memeu Lodges, each describing their respective Lodge's history, decade by decade. Among the featured speakers that day were Chester Quinter, a Minsi Lodge member from the 1930's. While Memeu Lodge was younger and smaller than Minsi (at the time, Minsi had more than 1,000 members!), great care was taken to be sure that its rich history was honored during the event.

The merger itself was complicated, in part because each of our lodges had such long and rich heritages and traditions.

I recently retired and have spent time sorting through a box of memorabilia from my time as Lodge Chief. I have a number of copies of the Wolf's Tale newsletter from the late 60's, as well as posters and programs and even a special neckerchief and color pin developed expressly for the 50th anniversary. I'm eager to contribute many of these items to the Lodge's archives. Among my collection of pictures is a shot of Jerry Andrews presenting me with an incredible Eagle-feather bonnet he had just completed to be passed down by the Chiefs. I wonder if the headdress is still in use? All of this reminds me of many of the men and boys who contributed so much to the Lodge during that period. While I was Lodge Chief, it fell to me to represent the Lodge at a memorial service for Larry Hoch, a former Lodge Chief who died in Vietnam while serving in the U.S. Marine Corps. No one who was active in the Lodge during that period will forget our dedicated Lay Advisor, Scotty Webster and many other dedicated adult leaders. Men like Earl Moyer, who always wore a campaign hat and impeccably pressed uniforms, and Lodge Advisor Dick Feick, who was a familiar presence at all Lodge events. Former Lodge Chiefs like Jerry Andrews, Scott Althouse, Dennis Epler, Drew Stump, Craig Long and Dan Reiniger were inspirational leaders who helped carry forward a long legacy of effective leadership. My own Scoutmaster, Charlie Coldren, urged me to become active in OA, to join the Shikellamy staff and later work at Philmont in New Mexico. He pinned the Eagle badge on my uniform shirt when I was 16. Several years later I was pleased to present him with his Vigil Honor sash.

Looking back, the 50th Conclave almost 46 years ago was a major milestone in the history of our Lodge.

I'm sure I speak for many current and former Lodge members as I encourage today's Lodge leaders to begin preparing a very special commemoration to mark the Lodge's 100th anniversary in 2021. I hope to be there to join in the festivities!

be active.

Please be an active member in our lodge. There is so much to do each and every year, and we owe it to ourselves to participate fully and better ourselves through leadership, service, and brotherhood. We especially welcome you if you have not attended one of our events in a while. You don't know what you are missing! Your participation at one or more of our O.A. lodge activities in 2017 will help us reach our goal of Gold JTE, and fulfill your obligation of service to camp and to Scouting.

Five Scout related clues are given and the answers are in the letters cube. The arrow block tells you the direction the word follows and how many letters are in it. The first letter of the word is on the edge of the cube and the last letter is on the opposite edge. Connect the letters of the answer vertically, horizontally, or diagonally.
