Conclave 2004 Coverage

Plan To Attend LLDC

August 14th is the date for a special training event held in the lodge by the officers. This event is known as the Lodge Leadership Development Conference, or LLDC. The LLDC is a great way to become active in the lodge. All chairmen and advisers should attend the seminar and anyone else who wants to learn about the OA and how the lodge is run may attend too. The conference consists of training cells with sessions instructed by youth members of the lodge. If you have questions or need additional information about the LLDC, contact any of the lodge officers.

Richie Tylka wingachtochwilsit kotschemunk When I went through my Ordeal, and joined the Order of the Arrow just last April, I was already pretty impressed with our lodge and the Order as a whole. Conclave 2004 at Camp Minsi showed me the more fun side of the OA and allowed me to see deeper into the workings of the organization.

At Conclave this year there was definitely everyone's fair share of fun, fellowship, food, and of course the theme, pirates! When we arrived on Friday we saw an opening show, depicting a boy's trip through his Ordeal, with a commentary by the spirit of E. Urner Goodman. The show was followed by, as usual, a cracker barrel where food was plundered in great quantities by all. Saturday was a great sunny day that featured many various activities.

In the morning everyone participated in training cells to learn more about topics such as ceremonies, cooking, and beadwork. All of them were well planned out, informative, and fun. The real fun began in the afternoon during open program where almost the entire camp was ready to be used by all arrowmen. There was a volleyball tournament, a ceremonies competition, dance competitions, rifle shooting, boating, and even some booty to be had in the camp-wide treasure hunt.

Saturday night our entire lodge was outfitted with pirate gear including a bandana, an eye patch, and a fearsome pirate sword. We went to dinner in our costumes and most wore them for the rest of the night.

I guess this is my last Chief's Corner, seeing as my term is almost over, so there are a few things I would like to say.

First off I want to thank all of my committee chairmen for the job they did this year. Your dedication to the lodge is what keeps it running, and you should all be very proud of yourselves.

The next group I would like to thank is my fellow lodge officers. Your passion for keeping a strong lodge program is undeniable, and you are the reasons the lodge is as great as it is. I thank you all from the bottom of my heart.

Another group I would like to thank is my committee and lodge advisors. You guys may look old, some more than others ... ha, ha, but you are all definitely young at heart and the driving force in the creation of the young leaders of tomorrow. I can't thank you all enough.

Finally, I would like to thank the general lodge population. Without you guys, there would be no lodge. You are the future of Kittatinny 5, and you are the ones we will be looking to lead the lodge into a positive and successful future.

Now that all the mushy stuff is out of the way, I want to make a challenge to you all. I challenge you to step up to the plate and take charge of your lodge. Lodge leaders aren't born, nor are they given their leadership positions on a silver platter. Lodge leaders are created through dedication, learning, patience, and pride. I know for a fact that all brothers reading this article have these traits, or else you wouldn't have been selected into the lodge in the first place, and therefore no one has any good reason why they can't become a lodge leader.

With that being said my challenge is this; look deep inside yourself and figure out exactly what you want from the lodge. Once you know what it is, GET IT! The resources are there, all we need is you! You can do it!

In closing, I would again like to thank everyone that made this past year so successful, and also let everyone know that I will miss you all. I had a lot of fun being your chief, and I will definitely miss it, but now it's time for Ryan to take the reigns. I'm sure our paths will cross again in the future, and I m always open to a phone call or two. In the words of our Lenape brothers, "Wulatenamen."

From The New Secretary

Hello, brothers. I have recently been elected as Lodge Secretary, and I had to find someone to take my place as Membership Committee chairman. Most other chairmen, in my place, would have gone to the committee members and chosen one of them. However, I did not have a committee. I found three people at the weekend to help me out, and one will be the new chairman. The point I am trying to make here is, JOIN COMMITTEES! There are plenty of you that are just wondering about the OA, and are not sure what to do. There are many committees out there that need your help. Need cheerful service? Volunteer with a committee. Even if you don't think you're interested, just try one. Or maybe you could call the chairman, talk to him, see what the committee does. Just one time go to a weekend and help out a committee. Any committee. It doesn't matter they all need help. Who knows, maybe you will end up as chairman, like I did. Again, the lodge is a youth-based organization. We need the younger guys to step up and take some places, because the older guys will be gone soon. Tell you friends, just join a committee. Make some friends, and hey, maybe you will like it.

> Dan Althouse Secretary Elect

Designs Wanted!

The lodge needs new patch designs and as a designer and collector, I would like to see some new faces start to design them. It is a real exiting feeling to see the patch you designed on someone else's shirt or even be the talk of NOAC. Shirts, chenilles, and even a new jacket patch might be nice, so anyone who is artistic, start a crackin' with some designs for the next Lodge Executive Committee meeting.

Jeremy Fisher VC Administration Elect

Arrowmen Wanted!

Fellow Arrowmen - With a new ceremony season on the rise, it is always a good idea to plan for the future. As youth age out, ceremony team spots become vacant. With these occurrences arriving shortly, I would like to extend an invitation to any brother who would enjoy torch bearing and/or being an understudy to a principle. Although principles for this coming year are already being put into place, I feel it is important to maintain the high quality of the ceremonies we have known for a long time here at Kittatinny V. With a year of understudying or torch bearing in hand, all interested brothers will grasp the ceremony a great deal better. This will improve the effectiveness of the overall performances, allowing them to partake in a ceremony at a later time when spots vacate.

> Kyle Balthaser Up-In-Coming Ceremonies Chairman

Brotherhood

Congratulations to all of the people who have taken their Brotherhood reviews in the April, May weekends, and over the course of summer camp. There's still plenty of time to take your Brotherhood review. There will still be a few weeks left of summer camp, and of course the September weekend. Adults: Remember you are the role model for the youth. You should set the example by taking your Brotherhood review. If you know of anyone who is eligible to take their review, strongly encourage them to take it. The only requirements are that the weekend/brotherhood fee paid, and be an ordeal member for 10 months. Remember, the review is NOT a test, it is a review of the spirit.

Francis Flexer, Jr. Tgauchsin Woak Wulatenamuwi Brotherhood Chairman

The Life and Times of a CP&E Team

Last year my son and I were asked to conduct the Camp Promotions & Elections (CP&E) for Cacoosing District. Upon accepting the task, in cheerful service, we received an instruction packet describing how to conduct an Order of the Arrow election. Included was a VCR tape on the history of the OA & election information that proved to be helpful & informative to many of the troops we visited. I discussed CP&E with last year's adult adviser so I had a better understanding of what we got ourselves into. Kevin and I discussed our role in CP&E, what we remembered from our troop's previous elections & then set about organizing an election team using youth OA members from our troop.

The team got together and discussed CP&E. Team members made up notes on their role in a presentation, then notes were typed & copied so that in their absence, someone else could jump in & the election hopefully would run smoothly. Upon receiving the blue request card from a troop, I would contact the Scoutmaster to confirm or change an election date & time, including receiving directions to the troop meeting place. Finally, Kevin would contact the team members to inform them of the election date and time.

On the election day, our team would gather at our troop meeting site, and then proceed to the election site. Occasionally, the adult adviser (that being me), would transport the team to a dark, locked building. The team (all those young men in the car) would inform me that we were at the wrong place. Everyone would jump back in the car, have a good laugh & head off to another location. So you see, Scouting really is fun! Upon arrival at the proper site we would introduce ourselves to the Scoutmaster, check on the number of registered Scouts in the troop, and confirm enough scouts were present to conduct an election. Team members also checked on the VCR & set up the tape for the presentation. Next, the Scoutmaster or Senior Patrol Leader would introduce the team to the troop and if a VCR was available the troop would view a 10 minute tape on the history of the OA & how the election was to be run. A team member would discuss with the troop what the youth membership requirements are, name those scouts that are eligible, and explain how the election would be conducted. Finally, ballots were passed out & voting took place, ballots collected and counted while another team member would run the video covering camp promotions & talk about Hawk Mountain or high adventure camps Northern Tier, Sea Base, or Philmont.

The results of the election were announced & the team congratulated newly elected Ordeal candidates. Then the team talked to the troop about Kittatinny Lodge #5, service, and we try to encourage Ordeal members to take the vow of Brotherhood. We also explained OA functions, OA Conclaves, and OA Service. At the same time, personal information was taken from the newly elected scouts. Paperwork was then reviewed with the Scoutmaster, signed copies given to the Scoutmaster & CP&E Adviser. The team said its goodbyes & headed home, discussing the meeting and the election in an effort to make the next one even better. Every week troop election results & information was passed to Council headquarters for further processing.

Our CP&E team enjoyed conducting the elections & promotions while giving service to the lodge, at the time we met new scouts, leaders & renewed our friendships. We ask all lodge members to encourage newly elected candidates to take their ordeal, and if possible, attend an OA weekend with them. Also to all Ordeal brothers reminding them to take the vow of Brotherhood, learn more about the lodge & urge them to become involved, you won't get anything out of OA if you don't put something in.

News from the Committees

If you are a committee chairman, you can have you article printed right here in the Wolf's Tale. Submit articles or pictures for the September/October edition now. The deadline is July 18th.

The Words of a Fritz

Hello everyone! As the incoming Vice-Chief of Activities I am looking forward to what a nice year we will hopefully have. I am really looking forward to working with the new and old chairmen and help them work to improve their committee to make them even more interesting and fun as best as we possibly can. I am also looking forward to getting many things accomplished and having a blast as we do it. Sure times might get a little bumpy on the road but that's why we are here to help you through times when it's getting tough. I am so excited about this year I don't even think I can put it into words. I hope to see you on the September weekend where there will be no rain and lots of sunshine. So come on up to camp and do cheerful service, be an elangomat, or take your Brotherhood -- just come up and start becoming active in this great organization. If you have anything that you would like to talk about questions, comments, concerns, give me a call. The number to my office is (610) 775-0398. Thanks, and see you around.

Jonathan Fritz Vice Chief Elect

A Message From Your Friendly, Neighborhood Publications Team!

Once again your friendly neighborhood Publications Committee has brought you this Wolf's Tale. But once again only a few committees submitted articles. I want to personally thank the people who wrote stories and articles to fill this edition of the Wolf's Tale. I am hoping that each chairman and officer will think wisely for next edition and submit an article. The lodge Publications Committee will not be around long if articles are not received.

The committee is still looking for members. Any interested brothers should contact me or my advisor, Glenn, immediately. Our numbers are listed on the back of this Wolf's Tale. Writing an article or covering a story takes very little time and effort. I encourage any brother to become part of this great, winning team.

Remember that articles for the next Wolf's Tale are due by July 18th! Articles for the September Weekend Wolf's Tale are due by the Monday before the weekend or as soon as possible. Pictures of previous weekends, lodge members, or general camp photos would be a great help to the production team.

Kittatinny V prides ourselves on our great communication throughout the entire lodge. Without help from our brothers the Publications team can not keep the lodge membership up to date. Consider Publications next time you think of serving YOUR lodge.

The final show that night consisted of a game show which featured pirates, the mafia, a couple Mexicans, a Canadian, a cross dresser, pyrotechnics, and above all the spirit of the Order of the Arrow. Sunday morning the annual section meeting was held. During the meeting Mike Miller came back to us from section chieftainship and Jeremy Fisher took up the position of Section Secretary. Conclave 2004 was a great time for me and I am sure that is the truth for everyone that went along. I had fun and met a lot of active members in our lodge. After we checked out I was already making plans to come to the next conclave and

I hope a lot more lodge members come out next year to experience all the fun, fellowship, and food that are to be found at conclave.

From the Incoming Chief

As the incoming Chief I would like to thank everyone for their time and support and hope to get your continued support in the year to come. As Chief I hope to bring forth new and exciting ideas to help the lodge grow. I'd like to take this time to further introduce myself to those of you who may not yet know me. I am a 19 year old freshman at California University of Pennsylvania, majoring in Technology Education. In the lodge, I have been Ceremonies chairman, Treasurer, And Vice Chief of Activities.

More importantly to everyone reading this is what am I going to do for the lodge. I hope to continue our success in achieving quality lodge for a 15th straight year. Though myself and my chairmen can not achieve this success without the help of every brother in the Lodge. We will continue to work hard to push brotherhood conversion and other necessary requirements. Besides earning lodge recognition I hope to be able to continue our ever successful weekends and cracker barrels starting with a Hawaiian theme weekend in September. In my mind the most important idea or concept to implement this year is the continued success of youth leadership. The Order of the Arrow was formed as a youth program to be run by the youth for the youth with advisement by adults. Through my term I hope to make many leaps and bounds with youth leadership and new ideas for fun and exciting lodge events. So come ready for tons of pig, limbo, and fun! See you then!

> Indubitably Yours, Ryan Gebely Tscholentit Wewin

A Word From Our Incoming Lodge Advisor

Did you have a great time at summer camp last year? Are you really looking forward to great times at Hawk Mountain Scout Reservation this summer? I'm assuming the answer can only be a resounding YES! We have one of the best Scout Camps in the country, and that is backed up by statistics, and the fact that so many out of council units want to use our camp, summer and winter. National Camp School has been held at our camp every year for many years.

But have you ever really thought about what it takes to have a quality Scout Camp at a cost that everyone can afford? Our Camp requires constant maintenance and repairs, as any camp does. If Hawk Mountain Council had to bring in outside businesses to do all of the maintenance, repairs, setups, etc., the cost of going to summer camp, or to use the lodges in winter, would skyrocket. Many young people who enjoy the camp wouldn't be able to afford it, and they would miss one of the premier Scouting experiences, and a big opportunity for advancement.

That's where Kittatinny 5 comes in. Cheerful Service from the Lodge members, both youth and adult, especially during the April, May, and September weekends, allows the tents to be set up and taken down, buildings to be repaired and painted, plumbing and electrical work updated, roofs repaired, roads and trails maintained, and so much more. The result? A quality camp, ready to go, at a cost that everyone can afford.

So does this happen automatically? NO. It requires the dedication of every Lodge member to pitch in. If you took your Ordeal, but have not come back to help on the OA weekends, you are missing out on the best opportunity to do what you pledged to do in the Circle...cheerful service. You are also missing out on a great amount of fun!

The next time you see the registration form for an OA weekend, fill it out! Use your talents and your time to do your part in keeping Hawk Mountain Scout Reservation the very best it can be at an affordable price. Give back for the great time you have at Camp. While you're at it, take the opportunity to take your Brotherhood Review. We need you, and welcome you back!

On a personal note, this is my first Wolf's Tale article as Lodge Advisor, and I want to first of all congratulate Roger for the great job he has done for the Lodge and for Scouting in general. Roger is, first and foremost, a very good teacher, both professionally and as a volunteer, and he has taught me, with patience, many valuable and practical lessons in the last year as to how a Lodge is successfully run. He will continue to teach me as he moves into the Associate Lodge Advisor position once again, and, believe me, I will continue to listen. Thank you, Roger!

I also want to thank the Lodge officers and advisors for their input and advice, and for their dedication to Kittatinny Lodge 5.

So let's make 2004-2005 the best year yet!

George Shoop Lodge Advisor

"WWW" - Two Meanings for the Future

May was another great weekend and I hope you have your calendars marked for September 17-19. Your new officers have some great plans and you wouldn't want to miss out on this weekend. As you are reading this, Gloria and I are somewhere in the western US, but still not out of touch. This brings me to the point of my article. THE INTERNET- WWW. We all know the meaning of WWW and the time has come for the lodge to fully embrace it! If you haven't viewed www.kittatinny5.org, you are way out of the loop. As the father of two former Kittatinny lodge chiefs, I am very familiar with the problems of trying to run the lodge via phone and snail mail. The terms frustrating, time consuming, and expensive come to mind, but you guys would just say "old school". I have spent the last two years pushing the benefits of the web with some good results among the officers and chairman, BUT not many in the general membership.

Our Publication Committee has done an outstanding job on the website, so log on and check it out. You can find all kinds of information and links concerning the OA, even a Lenape dictionary and the all-important Kittatinny Inc. merchandise page can be viewed on the site. You can download forms and check out upcoming events as well as doing some research on lodge history. We are not alone, as the Section and National have fully embraced the web. All NOAC and Conclave forms and information are now electronic so it's time for Kittatinny 5 to get with it also. Please take some time to log onto www.kittatinny5.org and check it out. Make it your mission to stay in touch and involved in the lodge byway of our web site www.kittatinny5.org. Every time you change your e-mail address (some of you do it weekly) make sure you re-signup with the Kittatinny enews. It's the only way the lodge can keep track of our brothers and for you to keep track of the lodge. Remember - www.kittatinny5.org !!

Who's In Charge?

Are you confused about who is running the Lodge? Every July, there is a "changing of the guard" as the old officers transition to the new ones. Complicating this is the fact that many are working at camp during the summer. The directory on this page lists the new leaders that will be in charge for 2004-2005. Contact them for questions you may have about the Lodge.

"The Order of the Arrow is a thing of the out of doors rather than the indoors... It needs the sun and rain, the woods and the plains, the waters and the starlit sky." E. Urner Goodman - Founder, Order of the Arrow

Broken Arrow We Remember Clarence Huber . . .

It is with sad hearts that we report the loss of Clarence Huber, one of, if not the oldest, arrowmen in our lodge. He passed away this past spring. Clarence was born in Reading in 1910. At age 12 he joined the Boy Scouts, and his interest in Scouting stuck with him. After working at various jobs in Reading, he entered the U.S. Army during WW II, serving for 4 years as a Staff Sergeant. After the war, he worked for the Reading He continued his involvement with Scouting and was recognized for it in 1960 when Hawk Mountain Council presented him with the Silver Beaver award. In 1971 he earned the Scoutmaster's Key. and in 1973 the Commissioner's Arrowhead Award. In 1981, he completed his Wood Badge training. He earned the Whitney Young Jr. award in 1983 and the God and Country award in 1985. In 1990 he was awarded the District Award of Merit, and in 1991 was honored with the Vigil Honor in our lodge. His Vigil Name was Tagauchsin Kikey Jumhet ("friendly elder"), as he was 81 years old at the time. He earned various other awards during his tenure in Scouting, and was a member of the Council's "Over-the-hill Gang". He had worked with a number of city troops, beginning with Troop 32. He last served as Commissioner for Troop 223. Outside of Scouting, he was active with his church as a Sunday school teacher, trustee, and deacon. He served on the boards of the Horizon Center, the Office of Economic Opportunity, the Boy's Home, and the Senior panel of the Met-Ed Company and of Bell of PA. Clarence never had and children of his own, but he regarded the Scouts he served as his own, and did his best to give them the opportunities that only Scouting can give. Clarence will be remembered as a humble man who rarely spoke of his accomplishments, but he was very active, and lived a life of cheerful service for the betterment of those around him, and an inspiration to life-long cheerful service.
